PARENTS!

Wouldn't you like to send your child back to school with 100% more confidence, improved coordination, and a confident knowledge of the Art of Self-Defense?

Psychologists tell us that physical prowess is as important in a child's emotional growth and character development as academic progress or achievement. The "slow" or "ungifted" child is often "by-passed" or "side-lined" in the usual organized sports or physical programs.

Here at BUSHIDOKAN, children who have never "fit in" to their physical environment or the athletic world, find themselves. Each student advances at his or her individual capacity, and at the same time is encouraged to increase his or her capacity and surpass his or her limitations.

"Our Parents" (parents of our Judo Trained students), consistently tell us of how their children now excel or lead their classes in the athletic programs at school, or how the child made the "Team" for the first time. Other improvements mentioned include Higher Grades—Fewer Discipline Problems—New Alertness and Interest, and a new-found opportunity to "Stand Out" or "Lead" their classmates, rather than stand back and follow.

CHILDREN!

Why don't you have your parents stop by BUSHIDOKAN to watch a class or a workout and perhaps talk to some of our parents? We believe that after seeing "Our Children" in action, and talking to their Proud Parents, your parents will see how valuable the Physical, Mental and Moral aspects of Judo Training can be for you.
